See you at Homemaker '82 Home Show

A whirlwind of food and fun — Homemaker '82 — kicks off at 3:30 p.m., Thursday, April 29, and will continue at a fast pace well into the evening when the last of nearly 100 prizes has been given away.

That's a quick summary of the program for the annual home and cooking show sponsored by the 15 community newspaper group, Lakeland Newspapers.

Admission is free for the afternoon and evening of entertainment to be staged at the Lake County Fairgrounds, Rte. 45 and 120.

Plenty of free parking is assured for Homemaker '82 that officially opens at 3:30 p.m. when Kup Kake the Clown shouts the signal, "Open the doors."

Publisher William H. Schroeder announced that early arrivals will be eligible for the first round of prizes to be given away at 4 p.m.

The array of gifts is highlighted by a free microwave oven that will be given away at the conclusion of the evening to a lucky homemaker.

The cooking show, starring Susan Huss, nationally known homemaker, will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. The official Homemaker '82 cookbook will be distributed free to all visitors so that they can follow the steps to preparing a variety of new recipes.

A colorful change of pace will be provided at intermission of the cooking show when J.C. Penney Co. Inc. of Lakehurst presents a Summer Fashion Spectacular featuring Miss Lake County models.

Afternoon visitors interested in the evening program won't have to worry about going hungry because complete food service will be available, another first for this year's exposition.

Nearly 30 commercial exhibits will be on display, according to Schroeder, following a "something for everyone" theme.

The entire show is built around the home and homemaking.

Schroeder said business firms interested in exhibiting still can be accommodated. Inquiries should be directed to him at (312) 223-8161.

Landfill ordinance, parking, finances okayed by board

The Antioch Village Board has unanimously approved an ordinance, drawn up by Village Atty. Ken Clark, outlining the procedures for filing a petition for landfill site approval with the village.

According to Clark, this was a move mandated by an Illinois State Statute in November.

The 12 page list of procedures will have to be followed by Waste Management Inc., if it files a petition to place part of its proposed 70-acre landfill on the 10 acres of that property that lies in the village limits.

The disposal company has filed such a petition with Lake County as far as the other 60 acres located in Antioch Township are concerned.

Waste Management representatives, of whom two were present at the April 19 meeting, have stated that they still haven't closed the door on possible annexation of the township's 60 acres to the village.

Another board approval forbids any trucks weighing more than four tons to travel north on Anita to Depot St., a route often used by the disposal company's trucks.

Parking tickets will now cost a minimum of $5 instead of the present $1, since the board approved this amendment to an existing ordinance, stipulating that fines not paid within 48 hours will be doubled.

Other business conducted included a proposal by Dick Prince, a representative of Western Union, that the village employ the acceptance of Master Card and Visa in lieu of cash for bonding purposes.

Police Chief Chuck Miller said that this employment would expedite arrests and relieve his men from transporting arrestees

Jewel, K-Mart Harbor Ridge site under study

by GLORIA DAVIS

The two biggest questions marks floating around the village of Antioch are when and where will a new grocery store locate in the village.

Rumors galore are afloat, with no one, not even those at the village hall, confirming any of them.

Although A&P has only stated that they at no time released information affirming the fact that they had sold their closed building in the Antioch Shopping Plaza to Scot Lad, the educated feeling is that some type of food store will be located in that building before the additional summer traffic hits the village.

Tom Santino, developer of Harbor Ridge, north of Antioch, said that the negotiations to put a Jewel-Osco-K-Mart shopping complex at the intersection of Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Rd. are "still in committee."

"I expect the next ring of the telephone to be more information on the complex," he said.

The proposed site for the shopping mall is on 16 acres in the commercial development of Harbor Ridge.

If the developers of the shopping complex give the green light, it is expected that there will be a strong effort to annex to the village all the property from the present village limits, along Rte. 59 to Grass Lake Rd. including those 16 acres. A complex of this magnitude will have need for sewers, water and fire and police protection.

Reports have those at the village hall working on the possibility of such an annexation already.

These young people will be performing music in their respective bands and for a finale, all 450 musicians will perform John Philip Sousa's march "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

The concert is free to the public and starts at 7:30 p.m. in the north gym.

Break into Galdine Electronics

According to Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher, Galdine Electronics, in Antioch's industrial section, was broken into sometime around 1 a.m., on Tuesday, April 20.

Fisher said that the alarm was set off at that time and when the police arrived, so did the plant's owner, Mike Galdine, who looked and decided there were no signs of a break-in.

At 2 a.m., the Antioch Police were summoned to the scene by Galdine who had subsequently discovered a two-and-one-half foot hole cut into one of the plant's metal walls.

An unknown amount of metal scraps, tools and solder have been listed as missing so far.

Fisher said that access had evidently been gained by cutting the wall with metal clip-pers.

With some physical evidence found at the scene, the theft is under investigation by the police department.

Appreciation luncheon is surprise for Spierings

BY BERNICE BERNAU

Raymond Toft, mayor of Antioch, Jim Fields, Antioch Township supervisor, Charles Miller, Antioch chief of police, the Rev. Lawrence Hanley, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church in Antioch and William Brook, president of the State Bank of Antioch, were guests at the Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) April 13 meeting. The occasion was a surprise "in appreciation" luncheon for Clarence and Dolly Spiering of Fox Lake who donated the money for the new addition to the Antioch Area Senior Center at 817 Holbek Dr.

Cecile Mann, president of chapter, introduced Loretta Schiffmann, program chairman, who had planned the program and made up the "This is Your Life" book that was presented to the Spierings.

Esther Aiani, vice president for the chapter, introduced the guests. Each had words of praise and admiration for the couple. Toft told how Spiering had been an architect and engineer in Chicago in 1927 and how his knowledge was helpful in the planning of the new addition. Toft presented the Spierings with a plaque showing them at the ground breaking and the words written on it, "Without Your Generous Contribution The Spierings Addition To the Antioch Senior Center, Would Not Have Become a Reality."

Schiffmann presented them with an album with a picture of them, facts concerning their past 55 years and pictures cut from magazines to represent Dolly and Clarence with words printed under each picture telling the story from the time they met until today.

With the help of their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy (Lloyd) Leable of Antioch, Schiffmann included this information in the album.

1927-Clarence was an architect and building engineer in Chicago. He traded his building in the city for an 80-acre farm at the corner of Rte. 173 and 45 in Antioch. Both roads were gravel. Antioch's population was 760. They started with five cows, three horses and no electricity or running water.

1929-Clarence went back to work in Chicago six days a week at Austin High School. He would come home Saturday evenings, plow and on Sundays, Dolly would finish preparing the land. Clarence would plant the crops the following Sundays.

1930-Dolly tripped with a lantern and set the loose hay on fire. They lost the barn, but saved the animals. The barn was rebuilt and became the most modern dairy barn in the area.

1932-Valentine's Day their house burned down to the ground at 1 a.m. Their dog woke them up, but they lost everything they owned. They moved into the abandoned Methodist Church on their property. Services hadn't been held there for 14 years. Neighbors objected and called the sheriff to evict them, but he refused. Headlines in the papers read, "Spierings win Court Battle."

1933-Clarence rebuilds the house. They raise 2,000 turkeys. One night all the electricity went out in the brooders. Dolly cleared the furniture out of the living room, spread newspapers on the floor, raised the temperature to 80 degrees and saved all the little turkey chicks.

1935-The Spierings built a gas station on the south east corner of Rte. 173 and 45. The station burned down to the ground and they had no insurance. Arson was suspected. Encouraged by the Texaco Corp., they rebuilt a large building. "Spiering Castel" gas station, restaurant and tavern. They were open 24 hours a day. Dolly was the chief cook. Hamburgers were 15 cents and lunch, 35 cents. They operated the farm, raising their own beef and vegetables for the restaurant.

1943-Clarence bought Tiffany Farm, 188 acres.

1945-They sell the business and retire to travel.

1950-They build a new home on the original farm and start a nursery business.

1952-A tractor overturns on Clarence, crushing his leg. It took him one year to recover.

1955-They travel around the world.

1968-They sell 70-acres of their farm.

1978-They sell their home and move to Leisure Village in Fox Lake.

Over the years the Spierings have been most generous, making donations to the Antioch and Fox Lake Libraries; Antioch and Fox Lake Rescue Squads; Antioch and Bristol; Wisconsin Senior Centers and to the Grove School.

Both have been president of the Antioch Chapter 387 of AARP and are active members of the Antioch Mental Health Assn.

Mann said she was grateful to have had the privilege of honoring the Spierings. She said, "He who is most generous, is blessed the most." Dolly was given a corsage and Clarence a boutonniere.

When I think about it If you care enough to send very best

by GLORIA DAVIS

Like many people who appreciate the finer things, I used to dream of what life would be like if my name was Rockefeller. After my latest greeting card shopping expedition I've decided to settle for the surname of Hallmark.

Remember when it took a thin dime to make a card purchase? Oops I guess I just really dated myself.

Then it wasn't too long before the cost of telling Mom thanks for everything on Mothers' Day went up to a quarter, especially if you "cared enough to send the very best."

Today, the average greeting card seldom costs less than $1. In fact when you add to that some wrapping paper and ribbon, you almost have the bygone price of a small gift. This may have given rise to the popularity of using news and funny papers for wrapping gifts instead of garbage, and colored yarn from the sewing basket in the place of costly ribbon.

Speaking of being economical, my mother has a way of getting the most out of the cards she receives.

For an entire year, she tacks them up in her family room, using their colorful artwork for interior decoration. She has even been known to take one down, cut the artwork on the front off and add a personal note on the back, when in desperate need of a card. Of course she only does this if cutting the signature off doesn't work.

There was a time when the only greeting card verses I bothered to read were those that were the punch lines for some of the more humorous ones. After being embarrassed by my mother-in-law twice because of this laxness, I now read every printed word.

One time, on her birthday, I found myself with a card and no gift. My husband suggested that I look in a storage closet where he had stored the card samples he had used when he sold greeting cards while going to school.

These were the large lovely cards that came boxed, costing $1 in the 1950's. They are probably priced at $5 now.

I quickly went through the cards, chose the one I thought was the prettiest and it was presented to her along with a present.

My mother-in-law used to set her cards up on the buffet in the dining room for guests' perusal.

It wasn't till much later in the day that I glanced at the grand array on the server and let out a yelp as I read the cover verse to the card I had given her, the one that wished her a happy Valentine's Day.

Every year, on my birthday, I would receive a flower-laden card from her with money in it. Every year I would glance at the card, count my loot and thank her.

Then one birthday, as I was thanking her, I noticed the sound of laughter coming from both her's and my husband's direction.

It seems that for five years, she had been quietly retrieving her card after I opened it, and I had been getting the same card every year. They had had a bet on the length of time it would take me to notice.

I've read that, just as a person's handwriting mirrors the personality, so does the choice of a greeting card. Pay attention from now on. You may learn something new about your friends and relatives.

For instance, I have an extrovert of a daughter whose funny personality earned her the title of "class clown." One might expect her to send joke cards, yet she always signs her oxoxoxs to the bottom of the floweriest and mushiest cards around.

I guess some cards, despite those tri- numbered prices on the back, are cheap at half the price, since they enable people who are pen-tied to convey every emotion imaginable.

I saw a card the other day, that offered apologies to a host for enjoying his party too much, insulting his wife, dumping shrimp sauce on his carpet, and spending the night asleep in his bathtub.

Now that's really a sample of trying to satisfy all the consumers needs.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Well, I hear that Princess Diana has made the "sailor look" the most important new fashion fad, so old Annie Mae got herself one done in white chiffon with blue and red trim.

Guess I'll wear it to the Antioch Mental Health Assn's Cotillion, at the Abbey, Lake Geneva, on May Day.

I see where William and Darlene Beck's little girl, Tami, has just been named a member of Egas, an activities honorary for senior women at Illinois Wesleyan University.

I understand this means that not only is Tami an honor student, but she is also a leader and very involved in university activities.

The Medinah Temple Hospital Committee and the Lake County Shrine Club will sponsor a clinic to screen children for possible care at Shriner's Hospital For Crippled Children.

The clinic will be held on May 14, from 1 to 5 p.m., at 2626 Washington St., Waukegan.

Although the community can't thank Betty Lou Williams for all the years of service, not only to the library, but also to the area and the residents, we welcome the new director of the Antioch Community Library, Kathy Dolleslager.

Residents will be able to meet her at an open house, at the library on May 16.

Do you recognize that slim young gentleman hanging around the Antioch Police Dept.?

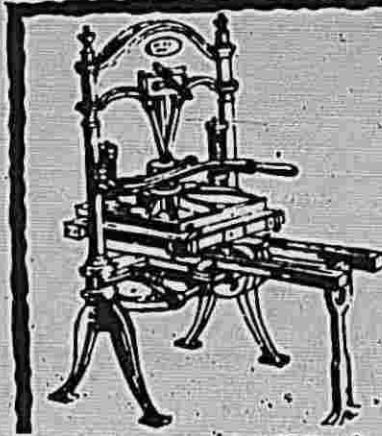

No the village doesn't have a new police chief, that's Chief Chuck Miller, sans more than 40 pounds.

Lookin' good, Chuck!

FIFTY YEARS AGO: April 28, 1932

A committee of livewires from the Antioch Chamber of Commerce staged the first radio revue at the high school. The variety show was produced by Antioch's Flo Ziegfield, Dr. David Deering, Dr. John Zimmerman was the continuity man and Gerald G. Reed was the announcer.

Many of Antioch's matrons were busy being the hostesses with the mostest on the ball: Mrs. W. C. Petty entertained at two bridge parties; Mrs. W. F. Ziegler hosted her 500 club; Mrs. Bob Wilton had a bridge party and Mrs. Ed Voss gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Julia Stricker.

Helen Lubkeman and Lucille Waters rated the two top grade school students and Eleanor Mortensen and Helen Pachay took the high school's top honors.

A five line classified ad in the Antioch news sold for 25 cents, a new Chevrolet Roadster sold for $445 and the National Tea Co. Food Store was selling Kitchen Kleanser for five cents.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: April 24, 1952

Howard Gaston, publisher of the Antioch News, was elected president of the Lake County Publishers' Assn.

Daylight saving time went into effect, but Wisconsin remained on standard time adding to the confusion of bi-state business and traffic.

Fred Scott was re-elected president and Louise Biel, secretary, of the Antioch Township High School Board.

Bette Meyer directed the variety show, "Make Mine Country Style," for the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Antioch.

A real estate ad in the News offered 80 acres of farm lands and woods for $8,900 and a 160 acre dairy farm, complete with farm buildings, was going for $20,000.

TEN YEARS AGO: April 26, 1972

John J. Wells was named Antioch's new police chief.

The groundbreaking for phase one of the permanent facilities of Lake County College took place.

Jean Rockow was one of three ladies hypnotized at the Antioch Republican Women's luncheon.

The PM&L thespians were in rehearsal for the mystery show, "Wait Until Dark," starring Dena Fabry.

The Antioch Grade School Band took a first at state at the same time that an Antioch Grade School Band Parents Assn.'s petition failed to save the band program that was eliminated in the school's latest budget cuts.

Postal Service urges leashing of your pet

As the U.S. Postal Service prepares for delivery during the forthcoming summer months, the public and delivery employees are being encouraged to be especially alert to the potential for animal attacks on public streets or private premises.

Mary Ann DeRemer postmaster, said that precautionary safety measures taken by the public and delivery employees will aid in the movement of the mail during the vacation period and more importantly, help reduce employee injuries due to dog bites.

Across the nation thousands of letter carriers, special delivery messengers and delivery and collection personnel were injured last year — most during the summer vacation period — due to the hazardous condition of unrestrained dogs during delivery hours.

This year the postmaster said the Postal Service will make every attempt to deliver mail as efficiently and safely as ever. "However," he added,

"through cooperation on the part of our customers, this task will be much easier to accomplish."

In all communities, customers are being requested to keep their dogs restrained during delivery hours, which includes restraint of the animal if the delivery person must make delivery on the customer's premises.

All letter carriers and messengers are being encouraged this year to follow safety tips in an effort to reduce the dog bite injury rate.

Delivery personnel are being reminded that if an unrestrained animal threatens their safety at a particular residence, they are not required to risk injury by attempting to make delivery. In such instances, mail service will be curtailed to that residence and not resumed until such time as the owner of the dog provides the post office with written assurance that the animal will be controlled in the future during delivery hours.

The postmaster also noted that delivery service personnel bitten by customer animals are encouraged by the Office of Workers' Compensation Program (CWCP) under the Federal Employees' Compensation Act, to pursue a claim against the person or party responsible, or his/her insurance company. Often such settlements result in damage payments amounting to thousands of dollars.

Effective control of personal pets, however, is the most effective safety precaution a customer can take to ensure his delivery carrier is properly safeguarded against dog bites, the Postmaster said.

Urge students to join school band program

The Antioch Grade School Dist. is once again offering summer band to all fourth through eighth graders and hope this letter will help you in planning your upcoming summer. It is important that band members keep up their practicing through part of the summer so as not to lose interest nor slow down their progress.

Students are urged to make use of this opportunity for additional instruction. It is of utmost importance that all band members seriously consider summer band.

Summer band will be scheduled from Monday, June 14 through Friday, July 16. There will be a nominal fee of $16 which will cover five weeks of band lessons.

Lessons this year include full-band rehearsals, and sectional practice and some small group lessons. This schedule will provide adequate time for both full-band rehearsals as well as sectional group work.

In addition to these offerings, there will be one 30 minute private lesson per week, given to any incoming sixth grade student on a first-come-first serve basis by Mr. Bush.

These private lessons will be set up on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday. The reason for such lessons is to acquaint the young musician with the rules and regulations of the Antioch Upper Grade School Band Program, before the year begins.

This kind of one-on-one instruction will enable their transition from elementary to junior high to hopefully be one of ease and relaxation, as far as the band program is concerned.

As in past years, students will be placed into one of the following bands: junior/intermediate band or senior band, which will practice Mondays and Thursdays.

A sectional group lesson will be scheduled one hour before or after Monday's or Thursday's full band practice.

All practices and private lessons will be held at the upper grade school and students will have to provide their own transportation to and from band. For students who do not have transportation, there are probably many other band students in your area that you could make arrangements with for a ride.

Some other activities in summer band include a trip to Marriott's Great America with tickets at a group discount price and a concert on July 16.

In the near future, additional information concerning your child's specific times and what band he or she will be playing in for the summer will be supplied.

In past years, there has been a very good percentage participation from all grade levels, so everyone should consider enrolling their child.

Encouragement is being given to some of the families that vacation, to participate when at home, before or after, a trip.

The sooner it is known who will be enrolled in summer band, the quicker we can set up lessons and finalize plans. Therefore, please call the Antioch Grade School, District No. 4, at (312) 395-1905. The deadline for returning this form is Friday, April 30.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,
OPTOMETRIST

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR EYES

Your eyes are much more than a "window to the world". They can tell your eye doctor about your general health.

When the optometrist examines your eyes for the first time, he'll ask for a medical history. He'll want to know what kind of diseases you've had or about any impaired physical condition. There are a lot of illnesses that affect your eyes. High blood pressure is one. Diabetes or any diseases of the blood are others.

Many diseases show telltale signs in an eye examination. They may change the color of the whites of your eyes or cause them to swell up or become inflamed. Discovered early enough, prompt treatment can cure many diseases or keep them under control.

The eye doctor will also want to know what kind of work you do at home or on the job, any kind of activity that makes seeing particularly important; also what kinds of sports you enjoy.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,
OPTOMETRIST

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR EYES

Your eyes are much more than a "window to the world". They can tell your eye doctor about your general health.

When the optometrist examines your eyes for the first time, he'll ask for a medical history. He'll want to know what kind of diseases you've had or about any impaired physical condition. There are a lot of illnesses that affect your eyes. High blood pressure is one. Diabetes or any diseases of the blood are others.

Many diseases show telltale signs in an eye examination. They may change the color of the whites of your eyes or cause them to swell up or become inflamed. Discovered early enough, prompt treatment can cure many diseases or keep them under control.

The eye doctor will also want to know what kind of work you do at home or on the job, any kind of activity that makes seeing particularly important; also what kinds of sports you enjoy.

All of these things are important in determining exactly what type of glasses or contact lenses, if needed, are best for you.

Set Lackey trial For May 17 start

The trial of Rodney C. Lackey, 19, Great Lakes Naval Base, previously scheduled for April 15, is slated to be held in front of Lake County Circuit Court Judge William Block, on Monday, May 17.

Lackey has been charged with reckless homicide with two counts each of driving under the influence of alcohol, failure to stop at a red light and speeding, in connection with the deaths of Ann Brierly, Glencoe and Lilach Shazar, 17, Wilmette, on June 21, 1981.

Witnesses reported that Lackey's northbound car ran the red light at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83, Antioch, at a high rate of speed, striking an eastbound car driven by Kenneth Meyer, 18, Glencoe.

The two girls were passengers in Meyer's car.

Lackey's counsel asked that the trial be continued from April 15. Prosecuting attorneys in the case will be Asst. State's Attns. Tom Scully and Mike Duffy.

Scully said that there is a possibility that there will be another delay in the start of Lackey's trial, pending the finish of cases preceding it.

To hold examination for board of review

In accordance with a request from the Lake County Supervisor of Assessments, the Dept. of Revenue will conduct an examination for prospective members of the Lake County Board of Review on Wednesday, May 12, at 9 a.m.

The test for board of review members will be given by the department at the Lake County Administration Building at 18 N. County St., Waukegan, 10th Floor Board Room.

One regular Republican member will be appointed by County Board Chairman Glenn Miller. There may be additional members appointed from either party to serve, as the case load of the board of review dictates.

The supervisor of assessment's office can provide study material to those people who intend to take the examination. Phone (312) 689-6378 for more information. The person to hold such office must be a resident of Lake County.

to Waukegan when they have no cash with them to post bond.

Attn Clark requested a legal opinion from the state's attorney's office regarding a legal challenge in progress questioning whether or not taking any percentage for this service constitutes unlawful bondsmanship. Prince agreed to return to the board with that opinion.

Being the last official meeting of the fiscal year, the board conducted a lot of financial business that included payment of bills, transferring of funds and investments.

A resident of Oakwood Knolls requested something be done about alleged speeding on Oakwood Dr., between Bridgewood and Maplewood. Chief Miller said that he had no reports that this was a problem. He claimed that the site had been monitored before and speeding was not a problem then but he agreed to have the police department radar used in the vicinity at prime speed times.

The board also accepted the annexation petition for property off of Depot St. owned by Lillian and Richard Burnett.

The trustees, in another move, authorized the clerk to pay a $1,000 insurance premium to cover legal costs that might be incurred in the lawsuit filed by Ben Franklin Family Centers' owner, Chester Dubas, against the village, regarding the zoning of the center and the board's refusal to allow a video game center to be located in the basement of the family center. The board claims that no licenses for additional games are available.

Mayor Raymond Toft signed three proclamations: one establishing National Dance Week in the village from April 25 to May 1; named May Alcohol Awareness Month in accordance with the Lake County Council on Alcoholism; endorsed the Lakehurst Child Care Fair, to be held at Lakehurst Shopping Mall, from April 24 to April 30.

It was also announced at the meeting that the long-awaited construction on the Oakwood Knolls storm sewers will take place immediately, weather permitting.

The board also authorized the re-issuance of the liquor licenses already in force in the village, pending the addition of some corporate seals and signatures.

Ask Dr. Sven
Solving The Puzzle

Q: I have a toothache — but which tooth is it?

A: The job of a dentist may seem fairly obvious. The patient has a painful tooth. The dentist finds the bad tooth, and treats it. Simple.

Unfortunately, there are so many nerves around the mouth that the pain impulse may get jumbled on its way to the brain. Often, the discomfort seems to come from an area some distance from its real source. This phenomenon is called referred pain, and occurs in many areas of the body. For instance, heart attack victims often feel pain first in their arm, neck or jaw.

Pain from a bad tooth can seem to arise in front or behind it, or even from the opposite jaw. The ache from a lower tooth may seem to come from the ear; a bad upper tooth can mimic sinus problems (and vice versa).

Sometimes the dentist must be a detective to find out what is really wrong and utilize special investigative tools such as x-ray.
